The Sweeper

I know I'm just a humble man
 Who works from eight to four.
 I rise and eat and work and sweep
 And do my best, though poor.

The only colours in my life
 Are dusty brown and grey
 Yet I know I must be content
 To work for honest pay.

Some pray for money, some for fame,
 Some for a great man's smile,
 But all I ask for is chance
 To shine a little while,

Just once before I leave this life
 I'd like to pay a part,
 And show that, though little man,
 I have a lion's heart.

Titanic

In 1912, an American shipping company launched a new ship called “Titanic.” It was the largest and the most luxurious ocean liner of that time. It weighed 46 000 tons. Experts called it unsinkable.

On April 14th 1912, the Titanic sailed on her maiden voyage. It was going across the Atlantic from England to New York. It was carrying 2224 passengers - men, women and children. It was a very special occasion and the passengers were celebrating it. There was much rejoicing on board. Celebrations went on all the evening.

Suddenly, just before midnight, the ship struck on an iceberg. It was a terrible collision. The iceberg tore a great hole in the ship’s hull and the “unsinkable” Titanic began to sink.

There was much excitement on board. The Titanic was sinking. The alarm bells rang out. Everyone rushed to the lifeboats, but there wasn’t enough room for them all. There was room for only 1178 passengers. The lifeboats took mostly women and children. It was a terrible scene. Wives were weeping because they had to leave their husbands to drown, children were crying because they had to say goodbye to their fathers; then men had to remain on the ship. The Titanic signalled for help, but no help came. Another ship. the “Californian “ was just 20 miles away, but her radio operator was asleep and did not hear the distress signals.
