Mothers' Day

All of a sudden, Vipul heard Jayani's yelling, "Oh, no!" Coming through the door was their neighbour's dog. "Get out, Bingo" Jayani shouted, but Bingo liked to eat what they were preparing. He stuck his nose in the butter dish and put them all down. They finally got Bingo out and shut the door — but it was too late. There was smoke pouring from the toaster and a burning smell arose from the frying pan. Jayani turned off the cooker and dumped the eggs in the dust-bin. Vipul unplugged the toaster. They looked at each other with long faces. Then, suddenly, they both started laughing. Their mother called down the stairs, "What's going on there?" "Happy Mother's Day!" they both called out.

Test 13

Read the following poem and answer the questions given below.

Silver

Slowly, silently, now the moon,
 Walks the night in her silver shoon;
 This way, and that, she peers, and sees
 Silver fruit upon silver trees;
 One by one the casements catch
 Her beams beneath the silver thatch;
 Couched in his kennel, like a log,
 With paws of silver sleeps the dog;
 From their shadowy cote the white breasts peep
 Of doves in a silver-feathered sleep;
 A harvest mouse goes scampering by,
 With silver claws, and silver eye;
 And move less fish in the water gleam,
 By silver reeds in a silver stream.

Test 15

Read the following passage and answer the questions.

The Ceylon Elephant

The king in Ceylon jungle is the elephant. No other animal dares to challenge his kingship. In their wild state, elephants live in small herds. A full grown male is usually the leader of the herd. Such a leader, in all his majesty and dignity, roams in the jungle with his followers. Elephants prefer to spend hours in the water. Baby elephants are very playful while bathing. The elephants with tusks are called “tuskers” and now they are rare in Ceylon.

Today, the Ceylon elephant belongs to an extinct race due to many reasons. Basically the opening up of forests for cultivation has steadily reduced the size of our jungles, where the elephants live freely. To preserve the wild elephant and other wild animals, the Sri Lankan government has established certain forest areas called “Game Sanctuaries”, for example Ruhunu National Park, where animals can live in safety and breed peacefully. Nobody is allowed to shoot the wild animals in these areas.

1. Say whether the following statements are true or false. Use “T” or “F” against the given space.

- a) The king of the Ceylon jungle is the lion (.....)
